PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—There was a heavy frost here last night. To-day it is clear and cold.

The Convention of the State Temperance Alliance and Temperance League meet to-day. Their purpose is to form a Temperance political party. There was a pretty fair attendance yesterday, and the Convention to-day will be still better attended.

The Finance Committee of the Board of Supervisors is busy investigating affairs of the Assessor's office. Their investigation is private.

Greenbacks unchanged.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—The Leopold Mining Company has incorporated, to work in the Cornucopia mining district, Elko county, Nevada; capital stock, $5,000,000. Directors, W. J. McDonald, A. H. Webb, A. J. Hart, E. G. DeCrane and L. Wilsey.

The State Temperance Convention was in session nearly all day. The attendance is quite large and the proceedings conducted with much enthusiasm. Geo. Barstow was elected President.

The Committee on Platform and Resolutions submitted a report, which was taken up for consideration. The platform first urged that no licenses should hereafter be issued to sell liquor at a less sum than $30, and as much higher as legislation may require. This clause was subject to prolonged discussion, a portion of the Convention being opposed to any suggestion sanctioning or seeming to sanction the sale of liquor under any license, while others esteemed the license system proposed, a partial remedy.

A greater part of the afternoon was taken up with the discussion of the clause. The amendment was finally adopted, qualifying the sentiment of the Convention with reference to the question of license, as an unavoidable concession at this stage of the temperance crusade. And the clause as so amended was adopted.

On account of the mysterious disappearance of one of the witnesses for the people in the case of Harbor Commissioner Marks for embezzlement the case was postponed to-day till December 15th. It seems quite impossible to bring this case to a trial.

In the pools for the trotting race Saturday, Occident sells at $450, Fullerton $320, and Sam Purdy $120. Pools will be sold again to-night at the Lick House saloon.

The State Temperance Convention is still in session. The delegates are discussing the policy of organizing a distinct temperance party in the State. The attendance is very large and the debates are animated, but no definite conclusions have yet been reached upon the main question under consideration.

Marriage of Wm. Sharon's Daughter.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—The daughter of Wm. Sharon was married to-night to F. G. Newlands, at the the residence of the bride's father. A very brilliant and fashionable assemblage of guests witnessed the ceremonies, which were performed by Archbishop Alemany. It is stated that the sum of $1,000,000 constitutes the gift of the father to the happy couple, and that he has fitted up rooms for them in his own house at an expense of about $200,000.

Interior California.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 19.—Conrad Hemmelman and Alfred Stephens were caved on at the gravel pit at Oak Knoll, and killed instantly this afternoon. Tons of gravel fell upon them. They were engaged in loading a wagon, which was broken to pieces. The parties were at work for the Heilbron Bros. by the month at their slaughter-house, who at times go to the pit to get gravel to fill in about the slaughter-house. Hemmelman has a brother in San Francisco.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 19.—Mr. Jacob[illegible], of San Jose, who has just returned from San Rafael, Lower California, says an Indian was found who boasted of murdering the Warren family. The Indian becoming boisterous threatened to kill some Americans who were camped near a ranch just below the line. Getting into a row with the other Indians they killed him, and perhaps saved this county some expense, as he was suspected of complicity in that murder.

REDWOOD CITY, Nov. 19.—Three guns and other effects belonging to three young men who were drowned in the Undine, on the 25th of October, were found to-day on a bank outside the creek by Mr. Callum, of the fishery. The recovered articles are in the hands of Messrs. Armstrong, of this place.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—The Aldine Fruit Preserver has been run almost night and day since its completion in the curing of grapes into raisins.

There were some eight teams to start from here for Panamint yesterday, but only about four got away. The others are waiting for the weather to clear up. Some fifteen campers started out with the teams yesterday.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company have their plans and specifications all made for the new depot to be built in the northeastern part of the city.

Wm. D. Jackson, a truckman at [illegible], was thrown and run over by his vehicle yesterday morning. He received injuries in the head from the fall, but it is not believed any serious result will follow.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 19.—This evening, as the train from San Francisco was en route to this city, a man named McGuire, while climbing from a flat to a box car, as the train was leaving Mayfield station, missed his hold and fell the car passing over his right leg and left foot, mangling him terribly. He was brought to this city and conveyed to the county infirmary, where it was discovered he had received a deep gash in the back. The doctor thinks his injuries fatal. He was under the influence of gin at the time.

NEVADA.

PIOCHE, Nov. 19.—A foot of snow has fallen here within the last 24 hours, and it is still snowing.

A CARD.

SALEM, Nov. 18, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The Bulletin has charged repeatedly of late that I had made way with certain lace and damask, or curtains made of those materials; that I had taken the same to my dwelling, etc.; charges that I propose to have the joint stock company of the Bulletin prove at the proper time, and I wish you would do me the favor to publish the accompanying affidavits in refutation of those charges.

Yours, respectfully,
W. H. WATKINDS.

STATE OF OREGON, County of Marion—ss.

We, Robt. Thompson, Assistant Warden of the Penitentiary, and Joseph Meyer, being first duly sworn, say that we are acquainted with the management of the State Penitentiary for the two years past; that to our certain knowledge the two items of Nottingham lace and damask, referred to in the report of the Investigating Committee, of which J. N. Dolph was chairman, page 22, were made into curtains for the use of the prison, in the office and sitting room; that they were put there and have been there ever since.

ROBT. THOMPSON,
JOS MEYER.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 18th day of November, A. D. 1874. D. H. MURPHY,
County Clerk.

STATE OF OREGON, County of Marion—ss.

I, W. H. Watkinds, Superintendent of the Oregon State Penitentiary, being first duly sworn, say that I purchased the foregoing described lace and damask for the purpose of making curtains for the office and sitting room at the prison, that I paid the sum of one dollar for hemming said curtains to the Misses Campbell and Nicklin, dressmakers of Salem, the latter of whom is a sister-in-law of Mr. Scott, Custom House officer and, as I am informed, assistant editor of the Bulletin newspaper; that the curtains were used in the offices named from then until now; that said curtains are accounted for in the Prison Inventory, page 30, of the Superintendent's report for 1874.

W. H. WATKINDS.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 18th day of November, A. D. 1874. D. H. MURPHY,
County Clerk.

RITUALISM.

THE GENERAL CONVENTION OF THE PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH FORBIDS THE ADORATION OF THE ELEMENTS.

The Protestant Episcopal General Convention, Tuesday, October 27th, by a clerical vote of 38 dioceses to 3, and a lay vote of 34 dioceses to 3 (3 dioceses absent) adopted the following censure of ritualism:

Resolved (the House of Bishops concurring), That the following additional section be added to Canon 20, Title I., "Of the use of the Book of Common Prayer."

"SEC. 2. [1] If any Bishop had reason to believe, or if complaint be made to him in writing by two or more of his Presbyters, that within his jurisdiction ceremonies or practices not ordained or authorized in the Book of Common Prayer, and setting forth erroneous or doubtful doctrines, have been introduced by any minister during the celebration of the Holy Communion, such as—

"a. The Elevation of the Elements in the Holy Communion in such manner as to expose them to the view of the people as objects towards which adoration is to be made.

"b. Any act of adoration of or toward the elements in the Holy Communion, such as bowings, prostrations or genuflections; and,

"c. All other like acts not authorized or allowed by the Rubrics of the Book of Common Prayer.

"It shall be the duty of such Bishop to summon the Standing Committee as his Council of Advice, and with them to investigate the matter.

"[2.] If, after investigation, it shall appear to the Bishop and Standing Committee that ceremonies or practices not ordained or authorized as aforesaid, and setting forth or symbolizing erroneous or doubtful doctrines, have in fact been introduced as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of the Bishop by instrument of writing under his hand to admonish the Minister so offending to discontinue such practices or ceremonies; and if the minister shall disregard such admonition, it shall be the duty of the Standing Committee to cause him to be tried for a breach of his ordination vow. Provided that nothing herein contained shall prevent the presentment, trial, and punishment of any minister under the provisions of section 1 of Canon 2, Title II. of the Digest.

"[3.] In all investigations under the provisions of this Canon, the minister whose acts or practices are the subject matter of the investigation, shall be notified, and have opportunity to be heard in his defence. The charges preferred and the findings of the Bishop and Standing Committee shall be in writing, and a record shall be kept of the proceedings in the case.

THE CONTROVERSY IN ENGLAND.

The Church of England has had a Congress at Brighton, and wicked people are chuckling over faults of temper and manners manifested by reverend gentlemen. There is a vague idea that among newspapers what are called "religious journals" are the wickedest, the least tolerant in controversy, and the most addicted to the imputation of unworthy motives. During the last six weeks we have had a succession of Congresses, made up mainly of laymen, who discussed deep problems without loss of temper, and "agreed to differ," as gentlemen should. A Congress of Church of England clergymen, with a Bishop in the chair, has been the first to give way to bad temper, and the first to vary its proceedings with uproar and confusion. As long as the subjects talked of were abstract and impractical, an almost angelic amiability prevailed. But the moment matters were touched having the remotest connection with current controversies, the Congress became little better than a bear garden, and the presiding Bishop of Chichester found himself powerless in a storm. It is almost needless to say that the source of all the bitterness was the Ritualistic controversy. Mr. Beresford, one of the members for the University of Cambridge, happened in the course of a speech to use the word "altar," and in an instant the Low Church element was ablaze. Low Church hissed and hooted; High Church applauded. A Professor insisted that what Mr. Hope designated as an altar should be known as "The Lord's Table." A Canon retorted that the Bible speaks of the altar only once as a "table," and even then in a connection not favorable to its adoption by churchmen. The Low Churchmen became furious, and a regular row closed the episode. The same disgraceful want of forbearance was manifested whenever a glimpse was had of the scarlet of ritualism. A reference to the spirit in which the rubrics should be revised elicited a noisy conflict; and a suggestion that the lay element should be introduced into convocation brought forth a similar display of bad feeling. The climax was reached when allusion was made to the prospective operation of the Public Worship Act. The supporters and opponents of that measure roared each at the other, and stamped and hissed with a degree of violence which the poor Bishop in the chair deplored, but could not stop. The whole of these proceedings illustrate the lack of unity among the clerical brethren of the Church, and the complications and quarrels that may be expected to arise next July, when the Public Worship Act will go into [illegible]. Of course the advocates of disestablishment are elated at the prospect, and certainly, unless the ministers of the Church realize more correctly its present position and the trial that awaits it, its overthrow will be inevitable. A minor incident affecting the Church is the squabble between the Bishop of Lincoln and the Rev. J. W. King, a sporting rector in his own diocese. Mr. King is the owner of winning race-horses, and under another name is well known on the turf. The fact is the occasion of much scandal, and the Bishop entreats him to give up racing or to surrender his benefice. It is not believed that the Bishop can give legal effect to his entreaty, and the Church therefore suffers more than the parson.—London Cor. Republic.

PATENT FIFTH ACT.—Now, our idea of a red-hot fifth act for a red-hot society play—and Mr. Daly can use it without paying us a cent for it—is about as follows: The heroine has a misunderstanding with the hero, they part in anger, he goes to Baden and she goes to the bad. (This gives an opportunity for plenty of prurient pathos, and will make the ladies weep buckets of tears.) In the first scene of the last act the heroine goes out riding, and is thrown from her horse, and breaks her leg. (Realistic runaway scene, the horse knocking down stuffed apple-women and practicable lamp-posts, and the comic policeman turning on the fire-alarm.) She refuses to have it amputated, and gangrene sets in.

Last scene: The stage set as a medical college operating room, students throwing peanuts at the porter and giving catcalls. The heroine is chloroformed and laid on the operating table. (This brings in the leg business, which can be made a good deal of.) The eminent surgeon (it would add to the realistic effect to have the leading surgeons of the city appear in turns) trifles with his knife, and at last makes an incision in the plump member, followed by a spurt of blood and a scream. A handsome young student in a mask leaps upon the stage and scatters them right and left. "Butchers, beware! that is the wrong leg!" Confusion. The student, like one inspired, presents his theory how, by stimulating the osmic nerves with saturated biprotaxide of hydrocephalus, amputation will not be necessary. The eminent surgeon says. "Young man, Astley Cooper was an ass to you. Gentlemen, Galen has come to earth; he is our superior." The unamputated woman awakes. "That—voice! Who—spoke! I—thought—I heard—" "Aye, Fantinette; 'tis I, Armand!" shouts the student, tearing off his mask "Spring to my bosom and grow there." "Fantinette!" "Armand!" "The hidgis past is forgotten, and we twain stand in the sunrise, my life, my wife."

If this play wouldn't run till the night before the day of judgment, we are very much mistaken.—St. Louis Globe.

"That dog of yourn flew at me this morning and bit me on the leg, and I now notify you that I intend to shoot it the first time I see it." "The dog is not mad." "Mad! I know he is not mad. What's he got to be mad about? It's me that's mad!"

LETTER FROM SALEM.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS, OREGON STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY—PROCEEDINGS OF THE CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONERS—ETC.

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.]

SALEM, Nov. 18, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Since the late State Fair a great many of our citizens have been busily employed in recovering their health, which has been broken in upon by the early cold weather, and among them is your correspondent. Cold weather is as inconsistent for health to an acclimated Oregonian as the spelling of Willamette with two n's and one l, and, having lived in this valley for a quarter of a century, I speak from experience.

CIRCUIT COURT.

For this county is now in session. The trial of Thos. Gerraud, for murder, excited considerable interest, and a great many are loud in their praise of his attorneys, Messrs. Gearin and Bronaugh, who contested every inch with great skill and perseverance. But the fates seem to be against the defendant, as the jury found a verdict as charged in the indictment. He is to be sentenced to-morrow (Thursday).

STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Board of Managers of the State Agricultural Society met in Salem, Nov. 17th, pursuant to requirement of the Constitution.

On a call of the roll, the following were present: M. Wilkins, Lane county, President. W. P. Watson, Wasco county; Jas. Tatom, Polk county, Vice Presidents. E. M. Waite, Marion, Secretary; Thos. Edwards, Lane; A. Luelling, Washington; Wm. Elliott, Clackamas; Jas. F. Bybee, Columbia; John Downing, Marion; S. G. Reed, Multnomah.

On motion, a committee of three was appointed, as follows: S. G. Reed, W. P. Watson and A. Luelling, on Finance.

On motion the Board adjourned to meet at 1 o'clock P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Board met at 1 o'clock.

Present—same members as in morning session.

On motion the report of the Secretary was read.

The matter of officers per diem was taken up and the Secretary's salary was continued at $400. The salary of clerks was reduced to $3 per day. The Chief Marshal was reduced to $6. The office of General Superintendent, was continued.

On motion of Mr. Tatom, an invitation was extended to those who were not members of the Board to take part in the discussions.

The per diem of General Superintendent was placed at $5; and he was required to wear a red and white sash, and the words "General Superintendent" on his hat.

The compensation of Assistant Marshals was reduced as follows: mounted, $4; foot, $2 50.

The Treasurer was allowed one per cent. for receiving and disbursing funds. Ticket venders were allowed $4 per day, entrance gate keepers, $4 per day; railroad gate keepers, $4; east gate keeper, $4; north gate keeper, $4.

Superintendents of different classes during time actually employed, $2 per day; Marshals in Pavilion, $2; Chief Marshal in Pavilion, $4; hay tender, $6; license collector, $4.

A committee of three was appointed on Rules, consisting of the following named gentlemen: Wm. Elliott, J. F. Bybee and D. C. Stewart.

Hon. A. J. Dufur made a few remarks on the subject of the Centennial Celebration.

The Board adjourned to 7 P. M.

EVENING SESSION.

The evening was consumed in considering the different rules in regard to entries, instructions to committees and Superintendents, arena, etc.

A committee of two, consisting of G. J. Basket and J. F. Bybee, was appointed to draw up rules in regard to trials of speed.

The Board adjourned until Wednesday at 8 A. M.

WEDNESDAY'S SESSION.

The entire day was consumed in revising the different divisions of the premium list.

The Committee on Printing made their report, which was adopted. The rates of licenses was then taken up and amended in several instances.

Adjourned until 7 o'clock P. M. 17

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The British Colonist will enter its 17th year on the 11th day of next month.

The Moodyville soiree netted the sum of $102 25, for the Protestant Orphanage.

Considerable sums of money changed hands in Victoria on the result of the great race.

On Wednesday a fire broke out in Mr. Webster's warehouse, Lower Fraser, but was extinguished before doing much damage.

The Vancouver Coal Company and employes have subscribed $175 37 towards the Royal Hospital, of which sum the company contributed $50.

Mr. Beaven drove over the Grand Trunk road in a buggy as far as Popoum, at which point he popped out of the buggy and footed it to Hope. He preferred to return by canoe.

Grain is arriving at Victoria from Saanich in small vessels. Messrs. McIlmoyle and Imrie are delivering their second cargo this season, purchased by the Victoria Brewery.

The Hudson Bay Co.'s land sale at Fort Garry has been very successful, about $100,000 worth of land having been disposed of. Lots 50 feet by 100 went for from $600 to $700.

A large quantity of Fraser river salmon is being shipped in the Los Angeles; also hides, and the remains of a number of deceased Chinese are being sent below for transmission to the celestial empire.

Some 15 or 20 new buildings are projected or underway at Nanaimo. Mr. Trounce, architect, has in preparation plans for a new fire-proof stone warehouse and a new wharf for Mr. John Hirst, merchant of that place.

English papers announce the death at Ryde, Isle of Wight, of Lady Kennedy, wife of Sir Arthur Kennedy, Governor of Hongkong and formerly Governor of Vancouver Island. The demise of her Ladyship will be regretted by all who knew her in this Province.

The Cariboo Sentinel says: "The 2d of November ushered in the first installment of winter. Snow commenced falling on that day and has continued falling every day since with the exception of yesterday, just in sufficient quantities not to interfere with traveling and to make sleighing good.

The ship Garza, which lay on a rock in Esquimalt harbor, has been floated. A survey was held at the instance of the agents, Messrs. Henry Rhodes & Co., and the cargo ordered to be discharged. The damage to the vessel is believed to be considerable. The Garza has a tonnage of 1,500, was condemned as an English ship some years ago, and was then entered under the Nicaraguan flag. She loaded with lumber at Hastings Mills a fortnight ago and went to sea, but returned for repairs on Tuesday last.

George R. Hudson, keeper of the Merchants' Exchange, Fort street, attended a meeting of Victoria Lodge F. & A. M. on Thursday evening, and about 12 o'clock, while walking home from the Lodge in company with Mr. George Thompson, with whom he had locked arms, suddenly sank to the sidewalk in front of Wilson's stove store and died instantly—blood gushing from his mouth and nostrils in great streams and covering the walk. Death appears to have ensued instantly, as he neither spoke nor moved after reaching the walk. Deceased had been suffering for some time from heart disease and undoubtedly died from the bursting of the aorta.

We are glad to know that a Salem literary society has decided that the press of the United States ought not to be abolished. Had the decision been otherwise, the result is fearful to contemplate.

OREGON.

Astoria had a fire alarm the other day. No damage done.

Salem has a Progress Club, Lou. Thompson is President, and E. C. Riggs Secretary.

The grand jury of Marion county reports the Penitentiary well kept as far as they could see.

The Oregon City Turn Vereins will give a grand exhibition and ball next Thursday evening.

W. H. Parrott, of Salem, took spirits of ammonia for distilled water, and it came near making a spirit of him.

D. H. Murphy's house, on Piety Hill, Salem, caught fire Tuesday morning, but the blaze was extinguished with no loss.

The Enterprise says: While other towns in the State are reporting much sickness, we hear of but few cases in this place. Oregon City is known for its good health.

A large crowd assembled in the Salem Court House last Wednesday to hear the death sentence pronounced on poor Gerrand, but the Court postponed the sentence until next day, and the crowd left in disgust.

A special term of the Circuit Court for Clackamas county will be held next Wednesday, Judge Shattuck presiding. We learn that the term is only for the purpose of finishing up some unsettled business from the last term.

Forty separate and distinct buildings have been erected in the town of Astoria and twelve at Upper Astoria, so far this year. The aggregate cost of these buildings, which includes the new docks and two canneries, amounts to $103,000.

Some of the University students thought they had caught a "green un" in the person of a young man whom they persuaded to go snipe hunting and hold the bag while they drove the birds in. They went home, but their intended victim got there first.

A fluid lamp exploded in the hands of Miss Mary Johns, at Salem, on last Sunday morning, and she was very severely burned about the head, face, arms and breast, but it is hoped she will recover. Her father was also slightly burned in trying to save his daughter.

The Record says: A private letter from Klamath Agency states that snow had fallen over there five inches deep, but that it had mostly melted off at the date of writing. The annuity goods were coming in and the teamsters reported that they had had very hard times in the mountains.

The Statesman says: The Medical Department of the Wallamet University, in preparation for the better accommodation of its students during the coming course of lectures, has had the basement story of the University building fitted up for that purpose, and the Faculty are very proud of the appearance of their new rooms. The Society enters upon this year with more flattering prospects than any previous one, and we promise our readers shortly a full account of the new quarters, and what they propose to do the coming winter.

The Board of Directors of the Oregon State Agricultural Society met at Salem last Tuesday morning, with a quorum present. A Committee on Finance, was appointed, consisting of S. G. Reed, W. P. Watson and A. Leuwelling. The Secretary and Treasurer of the Society submitted reports, which were referred to that Committee. The afternoon session was principally taken up in reviewing the per diem of officers. A committee of three was appointed to revise the rules of the Society, consisting of Messrs. Elliott, D. C. Stewart and Jas. Bybee. Hon. A. J. Dufur addressed the Board on the subject of preparing grains, textiles and other productions of Oregon for the Centennial Exposition of 1876.

A Baker City letter to the Statesman says: Rye valley, in that county, is just now the exciting point among the people, rich strikes having lately been made. Green's [illegible], at water level, actually assayed $10,000 to $85,000 silver to the ton. Complete and extensive reducing works are now in course of erection on this and other mines in the district, which will all be in working order in the spring. Workmen will be engaged underground all winter in getting out ore from the mine. Many new and interesting discoveries are being made daily, prospectors being out in large numbers. A mountain of gypsum has lately been found, which, after being tested by competent hands, is pronounced equal to the best imported plaster of paris. Rye valley bids fair to become the El Dorado of the west.

From the Enterprise: The whole amount of land taxed in Clackamas county is 328,180 acres, which is assessed at $1,009,967, which is a fraction less than $4 per acre. Total number of horses, 2,184, valued at $95,708; total number of cattle, 3,028; valued at $99,529; total number of sheep and goats, 11,428, valued at $22,850; total number of hogs, 5,140, valued at $10,250, making a total valuation of land, horses, cattle, sheep and swine, $1,238,340. This leaves out the personal property and town lots in the county. This shows a very good valuation of property in this county. The valuation of town property in this city foots up about $975,000, making the valuation over $2,200,000, besides the value of the personal property and other town lots in other places. The value of land is rather low, and the average is brought down by the low assessment of the railroad lands, which we learn numbers about 50,000 acres. Clackamas is the fourth county in the State as to wealth and population.

THE COMING MARRIAGE OF SENATOR JONES.—The following is from a private letter received in this city: How will Washington feel when Senator Jones returns with his fair young bride? For he is really to be married to Miss Sullivan, and very soon. Except in point of age, it is one of those ideal marriages that we so seldom see, and in regard to age we cannot say more than he did in speaking of it to me a few days since. After discussing the engagement, Mr. Jones remarked: "The only drawback is in the difference in our ages, and if she is gracious enough to overlook the difference it does not become any one else to make objections on that score." The bride elect is not a beauty, strictly speaking, but is more than ordinarily pretty. Miss Sullivan is of medium size, with fine stylish figure, and very elegant and refined manners. She has a lovely, [illegible] face, crowned with wavy masses of bright blonde hair of that rare, beautiful tint which looks as if it held in durance the brightest rays of a summer sun. She is a woman with great force of character, and a mind well disciplined and highly cultured. Inheriting a fortune from her grandfather, and being the only child of a gentleman of large wealth, she is above and beyond the suspicion of mercenary motives, which, under other circumstances, might attach to a marriage with so wealthy a man as Senator Jones. No one who sees them together can doubt that her whole soul is wrapped up in him. With the keenest intellect, and the kindest heart in these Pacific States, he is a man for woman's love, and he has won a worthy share of it. In this era of love matches we feel proud to add one from this far off land of the West. May all good fortune follow them.

INDUSTRIOUS BANK OFFICERS.—There would not, says the Boston Transcript, be so many "irregularities" in banking institutions if the officers of them attended to their duties as faithfully as those of the "Provident Institution for Savings in the Town of Boston" do. Since 1816, when the bank was established, there has been a weekly examination of its affairs maintained without interruption. A committee of three, each week, two of whom must be present, examine the entire doings of the week previous and certify as to it in writing, over their individual signature. The officers of the corporation alternate in the duty.

An Ohio gawkey saw, for the first time, a school girl going through some of her gymnastic exercises for the amusement of the little ones at home. After gazing at her with looks of interest and commiseration for a while, he asked a boy near by "if that gal had fits?" "No," replied the lad, contemptuously, "that's gymnastic's." "Oh, 'tis, hey? said the verdant; "how long has she had 'em?"

ATTORNEY-GENERAL WILLIAMS ON THE RECENT ELECTIONS.—Chicago, November 13.—A Washington special to the Inter-Ocean says Attorney-General Williams, in conversation to-day, says he believes the political sentiment of the Republicans has not undergone any permanent change. There was great dissatisfaction at some measures of the Republican party, and that was developed at the recent election. It is an easy thing, he thinks, to find fault with the Republican party, but not so easy to find a party able to reform its faults and accomplish all that the Republicans have been charged with neglecting. Williams has not much faith in the ability of the Democratic party to satisfy the people on the great questions of the day which the Republicans have handled but failed to settled. The Democrats in the next Congress, he believes, will avow their principles and take their stand on all the leading issues of the day, and he believes that when the party's position comes to be defined it will fall by it. He has no idea that the Democrats can satisfy the country on these subjects any better than the Republicans have done. Grant, he says, feels cheerful over the defeat. The Attorney-General, in speaking of the third term agitation, says he has always believed the discussion to be mere moonshine; that it was nothing more than clap-trap, gotten up for effect on the recent election.

TAKE WARNING.—At Maury, Tenn., a few nights ago, a young man went to bed, leaving a burning candle and pistol on his table. The dripping sperm ignited the table, the table ignited the pistol, the barrels began to explode, and when the young man awoke he was nearly burned, smothered, and shot to death. The pillow received the balls and saved his head.

FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 20, 1874.

"WHO KILLED COCK ROBIN?"

A spirited debate is going on among the organs of the Republican party at the East, over the question of who is responsible for the defeat of the Republican party. Those papers that have been regarded as the most intimate with the President and the persons immediately connected with the administration, say the third term proposition had no influence whatever in producing the result, which they account for on various other grounds.

The Republic agrees with the idea for which the St. Paul Press is, we believe, originally responsible, that the great Democratic victory is attributable merely to an idle and aimless desire for change, a longing for something new, no matter what. This theory has never before, to our knowledge, been advanced to explain what appeared to be a complete revolution in American politics. It was a favorite explanation with Julius Cæsar of any revolt that occurred among his Gauls which could not be otherwise accounted for without putting himself in for the blame; and if it was good there why not here? Many persons will laugh at the idea of tracing such an effect to such a cause; but do not people frequently laugh when they are in the wrong and the object of their ridicule in the right?

The views expressed by Attorney-General Williams, as given in the dispatch found in another column, differ somewhat from those of the Press and Republic, and have decidedly a more national sound. He thinks the people were dissatisfied with the conduct of the Republican party, and hope for a change for the better from Democratic rule. He believes, however, the Democrats will give no better satisfaction than the Republicans have given, which we deem altogether probable.

But the National Republican, which has the credit of being President Grant's mouthpiece, offers still another explanation. It says the imbecility of such men as Dawes and Blaine, and Garfield, of Ohio, who favored the investigation of the charges of corruption in Credit Mobilier, Sanborn's swindles, Jayne's rascality, Boss Shepherd's District of Columbia frauds, and the like, has brought the present disaster upon the party. The disclosures made through these investigations, it is declared, have cost the Republican party its majorities, and the party leaders who have forced these disclosures should be held responsible.

Such a proposition is simply the silliest kind of nonsense. If the party was so full of corruption that a disclosure of the actual facts, by official investigation, would send up such a stench as would disgust and sicken the whole nation, ought it to be maintained longer in power? The argument of the Republican involves an admission that should bring a blush to the cheek of every American and make every good citizen a friend of the men who unearthed the corruptions. But the fact is these Republican leaders are not liable to the charge of defeating the party by unearthing its crimes. True, they consented to the investigations, and, we doubt not, in good faith, encouraged them. But they had no part nor lot in setting them on foot. That honor or blame does not belong to any member of Congress, of any party. The Credit Mobilier investigation was unavoidable. The horrible facts were not new to the public. They had been discovered and made public, with the utmost particularity, by one of the leading newspapers of New York, and transcribed in other papers throughout the land. They could not be ignored, for they were already in everybody's mouth. The investigation was the only alternative. To refuse it would have been to dig the grave of the party at once. By the prompt investigation the Republican Congress did much to reassure public confidence and postpone the evil day that has come at last.

And so it was with the District frauds. The newspapers led the attack with such disclosures of coruption and rascality as could not be overlooked without fatal consequences to the party. The investigation accomplished no more than to overthrow the Shepherd Government and [illegible] the Republican party, so far as that could be done, of the onus of the crimes that had been committed under its auspices. It may be said the investigation [illegible] the charges of the papers, but these needed no confirmation. Every charge they had made before had been so fully sustained, the people had learned to accept their statements on matters of such gravity, as true. The District Government was as thoroughly under public condemnation before the report of the investigating committee as afterwards.

Nor did the Congressional leaders of the party set in motion the Sanborn and Jayne investigations. The merchants of New York and Boston and Philadelphia are entitled to that credit. After submitting to the exactions of those leeches till the limit of human endurance was reached, they united together, and pressed the facts upon the Government so strongly that it was impossible to refuse action.

It is to the free newspaper press of the country, and to the firmness and resolution of the merchants, that the credit of the disclosures complained of are due, and not to the leaders of any party. If these things have led to the popular revolution, the responsibility for that revolution belongs not to any politicians; and it is a responsibility the independent press will not shrink from avowing.

A LITTLE MIXED.

The Washington Chronicle of the 6th instant, has a violent attack upon those Republican papers of Massachusetts which refused to support Gen. Butler, characterizing them as "jaw-hawks," and declaring they are "far worse than useless," and that to their baleful influence are due the disasters that have overtaken the party in the old Bay State. The soft impeachment, we opine, can not be successfully denied by the journals thus arraigned; but it is amusing to read the article that comes immediately after that attack, in the columns of the Chronicle. A comparison of the two articles, both of them, editorial, suggests the possibility that the elections have had even a more unfortunate effect upon the mind of brother Harlan than on the party hacks generally. The next article opens with this modest deprecation of exactly the same style of criticism contained in the preceding article:

> If our Republican cotemporaries now engaged in the crimination and recrimination of each other, and of their political associates, in the recital of the causes of Republican defeats and Democratic triumphs on last Tuesday will permit the familiarity on our part, we will suggest that they are making themselves uncommonly ridiculous. One set of these philosophers assert that the President is responsible for this defeat; another set stoutly insist that the fault was not the President's, but justly attaches to the Republican leaders in Congress; and still others that it was neither the President nor Congress, but the venal press which should be blamed.

And from this auspicious opening it proceeds to the delivery of a paternal admonition against Republican children tearing each other's eyes, closing with a declaration that though some men and some journals may have erred, they are all right at heart, and no blame is to be ascribed to any of them. We hope there will be no more Republican defeats for a while; for we dare not contemplate the possible effect of another such disaster upon the editorial page of our valued exchange.

THE CENTENARY.

On Wednesday last, pursuant to a call from Hon. A. J. Dufur, of the Centennial Commission, a meeting of the Board of Commissioners was held at Salem. The object of the meeting was to devise ways and means to have the State of Oregon duly represented in the great national exposition. This action was deemed necessary on account of the failure of the Legislature to make any appropriation for that purpose. Last May, at the request of Hon. A. J. Dufur who had been sole Commissioner, the commission was enlarged, so that it now consists of Mr. Dufur, Gov. Grover, Rev. Dr. E. R. Geary, C. P. Burkhart, Esq., M. Wilkins, Esq., and S. G. Reed, Esq.; all excellent men and true representatives of Oregon's best citizenship.

At the meeting Wednesday, (for the report of which we are indebted to the Statesman,) His Excellency Governor Grover was called to the Chair, and S. A. Clarke was chosen Secretary.

Mr. Dufur, in a plain comprehensive manner, set forth the exigencies of the case and urged upon the Board the need of energetic action.

On motion, the following committee was appointed on permanent organization: Messrs. Dufur, Geary and Burkhart.

The Board then adjourned until 3 o'clock P. M., when the committee made their report substantially as follows:

The Centennial Board of Commissioners for the State of Oregon shall consist of one Executive Committee of three, consisting of Gov. L. F. Grover, Hon. A. J. Dufur and James Virtue, together with an Advising Committee of seven, as follows: Dr. E. R. Geary, Hon. C. P. Burkhart, Rev. Thos. Condon, Hon. S. G. Reed, Hon. M. Wilkins, W. L. Halsey, Esq., and Hon. M. P. Deady.

With a view to facilitate future action, and that all branches of industry might be fully represented, the various departments were assigned as follows, the various members to [illegible] the same:

Rev. Thomas Condon, Geological and Mineralogical.

Hon. C. P. Burkhart, Agricultural Productions.

Hon. M. Wilkins, Textiles and Fabrics.

Hon. S. G. Reed, domestic and native animals, public works and transportation.

W. L. Halsey, Esq., machinery, metals, native woods and their manufactories.

Rev. E. G. Geary, religious, educational and scientific histories.

Hon. M. P. Deady, history of the progress of the State and her various organizations.

The report also recommended that Messrs. Dufur, Geary and Condon be appointed as a committee to canvass the State to solicit articles for exhibition.

The report was, on motion, accepted, and the committee discharged.

Resolutions were passed calling the attention of the Oregon press to the importance of the enterprise, and soliciting its hearty co-operation. Also a resolution requesting the various transportation companies to extend the courtesies of their routes to the Board in view of the fact that their labor is gratuitous, and their aim to advance the interests of the State at large.

Quarterly meetings of the Board were agreed upon, to take place on the first Tuesdays in January, April, July and October.

The press throughout the State were requested to publish the proceedings of the Board, and render all the assistance in their power in furthering the actions of the same.

The duties of the Board, as set forth by instructions by the Director General, are as follows:

1. To disseminate information regarding the Exhibition.
2. To secure the co-operation of industrial, scientific, agricultural and other associations, in their districts.
3. To appoint co-operative local committees, representing the different industries of their districts.
4. To stimulate local action on all measures intended to render the Exhibition successful, and a worthy representation of the industries of the country.
5. To encourage the production of articles suitable for exhibition.
6. To distribute documents issued by the Commission among the manufacturers and others in their districts interested in the Exhibition.
7. To render assistance in furthering the financial and other interests of the Exhibition, and to furnish information to the Commission on subjects that may be referred to them.

The Board then adjourned to meet in this city on the first Tuesday in January, 1875.

The occasion is certainly one that should excite the pride of every American citizen and stimulate all to do something toward making the Exposition a perfect success, not only for the nation at large, but for each of the several States. It is hoped there will be no lack of interest among the people of Oregon.

PICTURES OF CELEBRITIES.

"The Greville Memoirs," just issued by Henry Reeve, editor of the Edinburgh Review, is the subject of literary groups. It is said to contain more breezy little anecdotes of great personages, even royal personages, than any other book that was ever published. From his description of some celebrities, we are sure Mr. Greville, whose diary constitutes the book, was not in the habit of flattering those who sat to him for portraits. Here is the way he does up Fanny Kemble, for example:

> I saw Miss Fanny Kemble for the first time, on Friday, and was disappointed. She is short, ill made, with large hands and feet, and expressive countenance, though not handsome; fine eyes, teeth and hair; not devoid of grace, and with great energy and spirit; her voice good, though she has a little of the drawl of her family.

And Queen Adelaide:

> The Queen came to Lad. Bathurst's to see the review, and held a sort of drawing room, when the ministers' wives were presented to her. She is very ugly, with a horrid complexion, but has good manners and did all this, which she hated, very well. She said the part as if she were acting and wanted the green curtain to drop.

Here is his note on Macaulay:

> It was not until Macaulay stood up that I was aware of all the vulgarity and ungainliness of his appearance; not a ray of intellect beams from his countenance; a lump of more ordinary clay never enclosed a more powerful mind and lovely imagination. His manner struck me as not pleasing, but it was not assuming, unembarrassed yet not easy, unpolished yet not coarse; there was no kind of usurpation of the conversation, no tenacity as to opinion or facts, no assumption of superiority; but the variety and extent of his information was soon apparent, for whatever subject was touched upon he evinced the utmost familiarity with it; quotation, illustration or anecdotes seemed ready in his hand for every topic.

And now comes W. H. Watkinds, Superintendent of the State Penitentiary, and announces his purpose to sue the Bulletin Publishing Company for libel, that paper having published a statement that he appropriated certain property belonging to the prison to his private use. As Mr. J. N. Dolph is understood to be interested in the Bulletin concern, we suggest whether he and Watkinds could not settle all disputes by allowing their respective libel suits to cancel each other. Neither of them will ever make a fortune out of lawsuits for damages to character.

The recent "tidal wave" entered all the navy yards, of course. It wrought great havoc in Boston, as this dispatch indicates:

> Boston, Nov. 5.—A very large number of employes of the navy yard were discharged to-day. Among them are 120 from the Department of Yards and Docks. More are to be discharged.

That was only two days after the election. The work of detecting the bolting employes goes on.

So far as we have heard, Allegheny county, Pa., is the banner county in the "tidal wave" business. In 1872 it gave a Republican majority of 7,800, on the State ticket; on the 3d inst. it gave a Democratic majority of 20,000. The Republic says Pennsylvania was lost to the Republicans by "the unparalleled treachery of Allegheny county."

Heister Clymer, of Pennsylvania, and "Dewdrop" Cox and Fernando Wood, of New York, are prominent Democratic candidates for the Speakership of the next House. Clymer is the Protectionist candidate while Cox and Wood are Free Traders. It is not known who is anxious on the Republican side.

[illegible] to a gentleman who [illegible] a few days since, [illegible] the following facts con[illegible]very made near Oak [illegible] above Oak Point, in [illegible] Territory, and about one half [illegible] the river, on what is [illegible] ranch," a very [illegible] in the earth was [illegible] the mystery of [illegible] and [illegible] the opening, or, more properly [illegible] shaft, is situated near the foot of a [illegible] of hills. The shaft is eight [illegible] and perfectly circular. When [illegible] the shaft was filled nearly with rubbish, small stones and [illegible] were all cleared away for a [illegible] feet when a soft, black muck par[illegible] of the nature of a peat bog [illegible]. For the distance the men [illegible] the shaft was perfectly shaped and [illegible]. The walls are as smooth as if [illegible] sharp tool, and are com[illegible] of blue clay. This clay is [illegible] and although the shaft [illegible] in all probability a century ago, if [illegible] by any [illegible]rances, there are [illegible] indications of disintegration. [illegible] been forced down through the [illegible] of the shaft for a distance [illegible] feet. On examination it is [illegible] the shaft still continues to [illegible] as the pole has penetrated. How [illegible] it is [illegible] is, of course, a mat[illegible]. A spring of living water—[illegible]—is found to exist in [illegible] a mile or more distant from [illegible] opening, very similar in [illegible], is found. This last well [illegible] also [illegible] living water. It [illegible] considerably higher than [illegible]. [illegible] of Destitution.—There ar[illegible] evening on the boat from the Dalles [illegible] who are in a condition of utter desti[illegible] [illegible] family consists of a husband, [illegible] two small children. This fall the [illegible] with his family from Denver, Col[illegible] to Oregon. They reached the [illegible] a few weeks ago. Attempting [illegible], they were overtaken [illegible], which completely [illegible]. They were unable to [illegible] their steps, and [illegible] for several days, [illegible] and with but lit[illegible] [illegible] the severe cold. [illegible] Buoys.—At the [illegible] a law was [illegible] buoys and beacons in and [illegible] of the State. By this law it [illegible] punishable by impris[illegible] [illegible] from its position or dis[illegible], a buoy or beacon, the [illegible] to mark the channel of the [illegible] and bars, [illegible] inlets of the State [illegible] at the instance of the U. [illegible] of Fossils.—Two gentlemen, [illegible] and Snooks, have recently col[illegible] [illegible]ber of fossils in [illegible] have sent to Mr. Day, Raf[illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] long since extinct, which [illegible] period of the earth's his[illegible] [illegible] from a canyon near [illegible] where Prof. [illegible] of his [illegible] fossils are [illegible] which has to [illegible] from the petri[illegible] of the [illegible] and size, all perfect in [illegible] state of preser[illegible] [illegible] winter these fos[illegible] [illegible] stone with which [illegible] put up in neat order [illegible] the gentlemen who col[illegible] of them to some of [illegible] are very interest[illegible] [illegible] will richly repay the time [illegible] inspection.

Above Colville.—A let[illegible] [illegible] Colville was shown us yesterday, [illegible] that the steamer Forty-Nine re[illegible] three months' prospecting cruise [illegible] on the 3d of November. The [illegible] fifteen white men and elev[illegible] [illegible] party [illegible] the bars [illegible] distance of three hundred [illegible] Colville. At some point in that [illegible] the party failed to state just [illegible], which [illegible] per day to the hand. Capt. [illegible], of the steamer, brought down sam[illegible] of [illegible], which have been forwarded to [illegible] Oppenheimer, of this city, for [illegible] thought to be very rich. All the [illegible] returning next spring to resume [illegible]

Left.—This morning at 11 o'clock [illegible] will sail from this port for [illegible] with the following passengers: [illegible] Adams, wife and sister, Mrs. Capt. [illegible], Mrs. M. S. Burrell and child, H. G. [illegible], Jos. Lemogne, Eugene Bouhore, Louis [illegible], J. H. Alvord, Rev. E. Z. Simmons, [illegible] Moultry, Henry Saxer and wife, Mrs. [illegible] Victor, W. G. Morris, N. R. Packwood, [illegible], Benj. Henley and wife, R. [illegible], Frank Waldron, Tong Duck [illegible], Mary E. Miles, Mrs. Gov. Ferry and [illegible] Miss E. Smith and sister, Mrs. E. H. [illegible] and daughter, W. F. & Co.'s Messen[illegible], and 25 in the steerage.

[illegible] Guard Ball.—Next Wednesday eve[illegible] the Emmet Guard will give their annual ball at Masonic Hall. Preparations of an ex[illegible] character have been made, and the af[illegible] promises of being one of the social [illegible] of the season. Excellent music has [illegible] for the occasion, and nothing [illegible] which can add to the enjoyment of [illegible]. Tickets have been issued and can be [illegible] at $2, admitting ladies, and a gentle[illegible]

Col. Meek's Lecture.—Museum Hall was crowded last evening on the occasion of the [illegible] Col. Joe Meek, the trapper, hunter and scout hero of the "[illegible] of the West." Col. Meek spoke about three-quarters of an hour, and during that time he managed to keep the audience in such a capital humor that he could have doubled the time and not have encroached on the patience of his listeners. He is not an orator or polished speaker, but has a brusque, plain, off-hand style of talking which always commands the respectful attention of an audience; and his manner of telling a story is very entertaining, and he never fails to bring down the house just when the "laugh came in." Last evening he gave the audience a number of new anecdotes in which he figured conspicuously. He gave a short account of his perilous journey from Oregon to Washington, and back again, which proved very interesting. He interspersed his "talk" with numerous adventures with wild animals and scarcely less wild Indians, of narrow escapes on the plains and in the mountains, some of which were of a thrilling character, and others extremely laughable. Altogether considered, the effort was very successful financially and in point of interest. Among the audience we observed a number of old pioneers who seemed to enjoy the Colonel's stories hugely. Every individual went away well pleased and with the desire to hear more of Col. Meek.

Windy Freaks.—On Wednesday forenoon, during a heavy gust of wind, the balustrade on the top of Good Templars' Hall was blown down. The telegraphic line which leads from the fourth story of the postoffice building to the jewelry store of L. C. Henrichsen, over the top of G[illegible] Hall, was also prostrated by the violence of the wind. In one place a sign was loosened from its fastenings and thrown to the sidewalk. A Chinaman who happened to be standing below was touched in no very gentle manner by the sign in its descent, and severely injured about the head. It was certainly a wind which blew nobody any good.

Lectures.—Next Monday evening a lecture will be delivered at Museum Hall, by the Rev. Louis Verhaag, on the subject of "The Influence of Religious Orders on Society." This will be the first of a course of lectures to be delivered at Museum Hall under the auspices of the Catholic Social Union. On Tuesday evening, Gen. O. O. Howard will deliver the fourth lecture of the regular course. His subject will be "A battle of [illegible]." This lecture will be one of the most interesting lectures of the season.

Constable Appointed.—Some time since Mr. [illegible] was appointed by the County Court Constable of South Portland Precinct, of which O. S. Phelps is Justice of the Peace. For some reason Mr. Newell was unable to qualify. Yesterday Mr. Phelps wrote a letter to the Court calling its attention to the fact. [illegible] same time asking that Mr. C. C. [illegible] be appointed as constable. The Court made the appointment as prayed for.

The Entertainment.—Holders of tickets will bear in mind that an entertainment is to be given this evening at the Progress Club Rooms, under the auspices of the Ladies' Relief Society, for the benefit of the "Home." Nothing has been omitted by the ladies to render the affair pleasant and entertaining to all. Dancing, music, recitations, various kinds of innocent games, refreshments, etc., will be the order of the evening.

Arrival of Priests.—The Sentinel says: Among the passengers by the San Francisco steamer on Tuesday last, was Rev. Louis Conrardy and Rev. Gerard Van Lin, both from Louvain. The Rev. Fathers belong to this Archdiocese, and we gladly welcome them to the new scene of their labors. We are glad to learn that Father Goens arrived safely at Louvain, and is in the enjoyment of excellent health.

Delayed.—Last evening the southern train did not reach here until nearly 5 o'clock. [illegible] that the detention was owing to a collision or some railroad accident. Such [illegible] was not the [illegible]. The delay was occasioned by the [illegible] having to draw such a large number of heavily loaded cars, that it was necessary to hitch on to sections of the train in order to climb the grade.

For Honolulu.—The bark Mattie Macleay has discharged her cargo and will have quick dispatch for Honolulu. Yesterday 400 barrels of lime, just from San Juan, arrived from Kalama, which will soon be placed on board the bark. This evening [illegible] 450 barrels of salt salmon will arrive from the fisheries, which will constitute a portion of the cargo for the Sandwich Islands.

Weather Report.—From the records of the U. S. Signal Station of Observation, Portland Oregon, November 19, 1874:

"Postal Guide."—Postmaster Cole has received a copy of H. O. Houghton's quarterly official Postal Guide. Many persons having made inquiries for a work of this kind, are now informed that they can be supplied upon application at the postoffice. The Guide has been approved by Postmaster General Jewell.

THE STAGE.

The Fulford-Rosedale Troupe are playing at Coos Bay.

Mr. Alfred Wilkie, the well known tenor, who was recently "benefited" at San Francisco, will sail for Europe in a few days, where he contemplates finishing his musical education.

Among those who sailed from San Francisco on the steamer Cyphrenes on the 10th inst., for Sydney, Australia, were Miss Amy Stone, [illegible] Stone, and J. W. Wilder, with his "Baby Elephant." Wilder will stop at Honolulu over one steamer, but the Stones will [illegible] to Australia.

[illegible] Piercy is now playing leading business in Chicago. A correspondent of the New York Clipper speaks in anything but complimentary terms of "Piercey's "Romeo." Playing the leading role in the "Queen City," before critical audiences, is rather a hazardous experiment for a young and comparatively inexperienced [illegible] like Piercey.

John Wilson, the veteran circus Manager, is now in St. Louis, and will soon start for California with [illegible] novelties for his Palace Amphitheater. "Wilson's St. Louis season was not a profitable one. He opened opposite the mammoth Fair building. Plenty of people came to see the Fair, but they would not go to see the circus, so the season proved an unfortunate one.

THE COURTS.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

RELIGIOUS, LOCAL, PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

[illegible]

Rev. Jos. T. [illegible] pastor of Walla Walla Circuit (M. E. Church), by Rev. S. G. Havermale, P. E.

Eighteen persons were proposed for membership in the Young Men's Christian Association, at their last meeting.

We understand that the project of founding a free reading room has not been abandoned by the Y. M. C. A., but is about to be revived with much assurance of success.

Thanksgiving services will be held in Zion school house, two miles southwest of town, on Thursday morning next. A picnic Thanksgiving dinner will follow. A general invitation is given to all to be present.

A Union Thanksgiving service will be held in the First Baptist Church, on Thursday next, at 11 o'clock A. M. Sermon by Rev. R. Bentley, D. D., pastor of the Taylor-street M. E. Church. All are invited to attend.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Down goes the river again.

A bright cold day was yesterday.

Steamer off to-day for San Francisco.

These cold nights are too much for the soft yielding mud.

Keep a vigilant eye to your chicken roosts and clothes lines. Thieves are about again.

We read of a young lady who, fearful of becoming stout, devotes two hours to every meal, because she had read somewhere that "haste makes waist."

In some of the Western cities the hired girls have organized rings, and demand three beau nights a week. Speaking of it, an exchange exclaims: "Great Heavens, what is the country coming to?" The girls can probably solve that conundrum.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

DeLashmutt & Oatman have some land for sale cheap.

Regular sale this morning by Oscar Kilbourn at his rooms, coner of First and Pine.

Read the announcement of Faber & Barnes, proprietors of the Central Market Coffee Stand.

The well known firm of Dilg & Zimmerman is dissolved. Mr. Zimmerman continues in business at the old stand.

Our boy readers are invited to peruse the prospectus of the Oregon Amateur. All its matter is written, compiled and printed by boys. See notice.

Shippers will take notice that from and after date, the Oregon Steamship Company will carry freight from Corvallis to Astoria at reduced rates. See the notice.

EAST OF THE MOUNTAINS.

The O. S. N. Co. has kindly furnished us with the following dispatches from east of the mountains. From them the condition of the weather at the places named may be ascertained up to 6 o'clock last evening:

Walla Walla—Clear; thermometer 28°.

Wallula—Clear and pleasant; thermometer 24°.

Umatilla—Clear; thermometer 25°.

Celilo—Clear and pleasant; down stream wind; thermometer 38°.

Dalles—Clear; wind up stream; thermometer 27°.

Cascades—Clear; wind light, down stream; thermometer 38°.

AMUSEMENTS.

Oro Fino Theater.—The "Red Pocket Book" was produced last evening to a fair house. In all its details, the exciting drama was rendered in good taste and with excellent effect. Mr. Sawtelle personated the leading role, in which he was efficiently supported by Mrs. Phelps and the full dramatic company. This evening, the beautiful drama of "Marble Hearts" will be produced, with Mr. Sawtelle as "Raphael Duchalet," the young, sentimental, dreaming sculptor, and Mrs. Phelps as the imperious, heartless "Marco." We are assured that the play will be rendered in fine style. Let no one fail to see this beautiful drama. The full dramatic company will appear.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. F. F. Victor is a passenger on the outgoing steamer for San Francisco.

Mr. R. C. Corbaley, the energetic and gentlemanly agent of Bancroft & Co., of San Francisco, starts overland for that city to-day.

CHARLOTTE CUSHMAN AS "MEG MERRILIES."

WHAT A NOTED CRITIC SAYS ABOUT HER.

Wm. Winter, dramatic critic of the New York Tribune, was [illegible] by the great actress, Charlotte Cushman, in her impersonation of Meg Merrilies at Booth's Theater, recently. Hear him:

It is difficult to write calmly of a personage so grand and thrilling. It would be idle to write the worn words of description or the faded phrases of compliment. Miss Cushman acted Meg Merrilies upon this [illegible] in such a way as to make us forget that we had seen it before, and feel only that we were now seeing it for the first time. In the glory of her youth she never was more powerful than when, upon this memorable night, she burst into the gloomy wood and stood transfigured before us—a living monument of frenzied suspense and regal misery. Her figure towered; her very soul seemed to dilate; years of suffering were written on her countenance; a world of love and of prophetic hope blazed from her eyes, every muscle of her body seemed hardened into marble, by the tremendous tension of excitement under which she leapt into the character; her presence was literally inspired, and, when she spoke, the nameless quality of anguish and pathos in her voice thrilled every chord of every heart in the vast assemblage that saw this wonder and heard this music. Genius in the art of acting can do no more than was ever done by Charlotte Cushman in that supreme moment. At the end of the scene the stormy applause of a multitude excited beyond all limits of discretion almost shook the building—till the actress came back upon the stage, to look one moment upon her triumph, and calm with her smile this raging sea of admiration. In a very long experience of such matters we have seen no effect parallel with this.

A little girl sent out to hunt eggs came back unsuccessful, complaining that "lots of hens were standing round doing nothing."

Pause while you read this! The season for parties and balls has arrived and the cold dreary days and nights of winter will soon visit us. Every young man, old man and boy—for that matter, likes to present a neat appearance when attending parties, the theater, or walking about the streets. They likewise desire to be well provided against the cold blasts of snow and rain. What contributes more to the personal appearance and comfort of a gentleman, or boy, than a nice closely fitting suit of clothes, set off with a heavy warm overcoat? Why will any one be so foolish as to go without either, when BECK & WALDMAN have everything in that line. Beck & Waldman in laying in their immense fall and winter stock of Clothing have exercised great care, and selected with reference to the demands of trade. They have purchased their goods low and are determined not to be undersold. Let the public note this fact.

The great Frenchman, Altaroche, made specialties of irony and sarcasm in all his writings, but JOHN O'NIEL & CO. make specialties of selling the finest clothing, underwear, cravats, ties and hats at unparalleled low prices. For a winter suit theirs are of the best to get yourself dressed and be at rest. This is not irony or sarcasm, but stubborn fact, as everybody will find out who goes to their store. Naked truth is good, but people can't go about in that way and must have clothing, and the supplies received by this firm are just what are wanted for the season.

NEW STORE! NEW GOODS! NEW PRICES!

GRAND REOPENING of H. W. MONNASTES' New Store. A large and extensive Stock of Crockery and Glassware to be sold at reduced rates.

P. S.—Mr. Monnastes has just returned from San Francisco with a large and well selected Stock of Crockery, Glassware, Plated Ware and Cutlery, which he has purchased at the lowest cash price, so he is able to sell goods in his line cheaper than ever. Call and see for yourself. No trouble to show goods. He has moved to the new brick building on First street, between Morrison and Yamhill.

Fashionable Outfits.—Attention is again called to the extraordinary opportunities which are just now being afforded by the extensive clothing house of JOS. KOHN, opposite National Bank. There is no place in the State where a larger or finer assortment both for gentlemen, boys and children will be found. At all times the prices have been the lowest known to the market, but at the present time it will be found that they have been greatly reduced. Mr. Kohn keeps constantly on hand a large and superior stock of furnishing goods and underwear.

TO THE LADIES.

On First Street, above Morrison,

Weak Lungs and Sensitive Throats are severely tried by the sudden changes of temperature occurring during our winters, and in consequence Asthmatic Affections, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pleurisy, Bronchitis, and similar complaints, are sure to be more or less prevalent. Coughs and Colds, the forerunners of these often fatal complaints, and frequently the cause of them, should be prudently taken in hand on the first symptoms, by resorting at once to Dr. Jayne's Expectorant, an old and well tried remedy, certain to remove your Cold, and to exert a healing and strengthening effect on the Pulmonary and Bronchial organs.

ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY OFFERED

For the relief of the afflicted.

The Surgeons of the NATIONAL SURGICAL INSTITUTE will visit the Pacific Coast on the 15th day of November, and remain until the 15th day of December, 1874—one month—at their old building, No. 319 Bush street, between Kearny and Montgomery, San Francisco.

This is a chance for help which every sufferer should take advantage of. The hundreds of patients treated by them during their former visits, are all rapidly being benefited and cured. They treat successfully all cases of Paralysis; all deformities of the Face, Spine and Limbs; Diseased Joints; Diseased Eyes and Ears; Catarrh; Private Diseases; Diseases of Females; Piles, Fistula, etc. No hospital cases are undertaken, and it really does seem as if no cases are hopeless in the hands of these skillful surgeons.

They are preparing all the machinery necessary for the Swedish Movement Cure; Medicated Baths; Machinery to equalize the circulation, restore Paralyzed Limbs, etc.; and a much finer outfit of braces and appliances, than heretofore. All who commence treatment during this visit, and the many hundreds now under treatment, will have the advantages of all these most effectual means of cure; besides, some of the surgeons will this time remain to continue their treatment.

Remember the time and place; and come as early in the month as possible; thus getting the full benefit of their visit.

A Triumph of Chemistry.

Among the numerous health-giving discoveries of pharmaceutical chemistry, none has achieved a more transcendent and lasting success than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Of course there is a reason for this. It would have been impossible to palm off, for nearly a quarter of a century, upon so shrewd a people as the Americans, a worthless article, or have established by mere advertising such a reputation as the Bitters enjoy, if they [illegible] substantial title to public confidence. The truth of this statement is proved by the fact that [illegible] nostrums, no matter how extensively puffed, annually enjoy but a transient existence, and are discovered to be worthless, and discarded. Hostetter's Bitters, on the contrary, after [illegible] twenty years, were never so [illegible]. Soon after their appearance [illegible] that they possessed in a remarkable degree the power of toning and regulating the human system, and to-day they rank as the standard restorative of the age.

MOUNTAIN MEADOW MASSACRE.

ARREST OF THE NOTORIOUS COL JOHN D LEE ALLEGED LEADER IN THE MOUNTAIN MEADOW [illegible]

[Beaver Utah Corr S F Chronicle]

Last Saturday the U S Marshal—having received information that Lee was at Pangwitch a small Mormon settlement on the Sevier river thirty five miles south [illegible] of Beaver—sent one of his posse Frank Fish to reconnoiter and Fish having ascertained that Lee was at Pangwitch on Sunday night Stokes with Fish Thomas Winn P [illegible] David Evans and Thomas Lefevre drew near Pangwitch and secreted themselves under a hill for the night The whole posse entered the town just after daybreak on Monday morning But early as they were and secretly as their movements had been conducted, information of their presence had reached Lee, and suspecting their business he had concealed himself. After thoroughly searching the house where the criminal was supposed to be, the officers directed their attention to the out buildings, and their labors were soon rewarded by finding

[illegible] IN A CHICKEN COOP,

Loosely covered with straw Stokes who was the first to discover his man, advanced to the coop pistol in hand, and covering Lee [illegible] his weapon from a hole in the roof of the coop ordered him to come out There being no reply to this demand Winn was ordered to enter the assassin's hiding place and disarm him, Stokes informing Lee that he would blow the head off [illegible] of the officer's pistol was not more than two feet from Lee's head the latter saw that it was not a vain threat and that he was in the enemy's toils So before Winn had time to obey the order of his chief, Lee said I'll come out and immediately crawled with a pistol in his hand

LEE'S WIFE TO THE RESCUE

While Stokes was parleying with Lee, one of the numerous wives of the latter, Rachel, covered Stokes with a shotgun a double barreled one, and threatened to fire She in her turn was covered by the revolver of Fish, and as Lee came out she was disarmed [illegible] relatives or numerous friends

When Lee found himself in the hands of the Philistines" he evidently made up his mind to make [illegible] for he pleasantly and cordially invited the officers to breakfast with him which invitation they gratefully accepted.

Lee displayed an immense amount of sang froid when resistance was useless [illegible] writing out directions for the management of his property during his forced absence [illegible] seemed to overlook none of those details which a man in his position might reasonably be expected to forget Stokes [illegible] bors who evidently believed that

THE HEAD OF THE CHURCH

Had been derelict in his duty toward his subaltern, President Young is not interested [illegible] reached here on Tuesday, when he was immediately lodged in jail and heavily ironed

AN INTERVIEW WITH THE PRISONER

Through the [illegible] of Marshal Stokes and the prison [illegible] I had a brief interview with Lee this morning I found him in cheerful spirits While he did not directly say so I am inclined to think that he is not one whit surprised to find himself in his present position Public attention has been directed towards him for some time and he has known that he has been charged through the press with being the [illegible] murderers John D Lee is 62 years of age and has had [illegible] children, fifty four of whom are still living He has fifteen grown up sons He admits having eighteen wives. One wife only the faithful Rachel accompanied him to Beaver She is here under the protection of one of his [illegible] Illinois and is the son of an Irish mother, whose maiden name was Doyle, and a father whom [illegible] of Virginia. He is five feet nine and a half inches high, and weighs 165 pounds He has a large head blue eyes and grey hair, [illegible] In Pangwitch and Beaver, and, indeed throughout the southern part of the Territory, Lee has been

PAUL BOYNTON'S WONDERFUL SWIMMING FEAT.

The Cork Constitution of the 2.d of October has the following

On yesterday a most extraordinary feat was performed by an American gentleman named Paul Boynton, who by the aid of a newly invented swimming apparatus has swam a distance of upward of 17 miles. Mr Boynton was a passenger from America by the national steamer Queen, and it appears he joined the [illegible] with the intention of lowering himself into mid-ocean a couple of hundred miles off Sandy Hook in a life-saving apparatus which [illegible] recently invented by a Mr Merryman The apparatus consists of a [illegible] covering the upper portion of the body There are air apartments in the machine the object being to keep the wearer afloat The position [illegible] the water is to float on his back, and the apparatus is then worked by a pair of paddles one at each side as the gunwale of the canoe [illegible] Mr Boynton intended, as we have already mentioned, to enter into mid-ocean about 200 miles off the Fastnet but when the captain of the Queen became aware [illegible] flatly refused to allow him to carry it out, but promised to allow Mr Boynton to make his experiment on the Irish coast The steamer arrived off the Irish coast last night about 9 o'clock, when in opposition to the captain and all on board Mr Boynton [illegible] himself in his apparatus and set out seven miles off the Fastnet The sea was at the time running very high and the [illegible] blowing [illegible], rain coming down in torrents, so that frequently before Mr Boynton had completed his task, he had to shade his face with his hands to protect it from a heavy rain that was falling He worked away with his paddle for some time floated and drifted along alternately, until he had been about six hours at sea, when seeing an opening between two great rocks he steered for it, and drifted ashore on a sand spit He lit signals with a view of attracting attention, but they were not responded to [illegible] succeeded in gaining high ground where he lighted three signals more, but still receiving no response he broke off on a road and soon after arrived in Skibbereen via Baltimore In both places he was treated most kindly by the coast guards.

PRINCE KUNG'S DEGRADATION

SUBSEQUENT RESTORATION TO POWER—AN ASIATIC IMPERIALIST WARNING TO POWERFUL BUT SELF SUFFICIENT MINISTERS

An imperial decree, in the vermilion pencil has been [illegible] Gazette, reducing the rank of Prince Kung The motives of this course are not clearly understood and have formed subject for much comment among all classes in the Chinese capital

THE DECREE

The following is the announcement from the Peking Gazette of September 10

A Decree in the Vermilion (pencil)

Be it made known to all the Princes and Ministers in the Court, that from the time when we assumed the government on the 26th day of the first moon of last year (23d February, 1873) until now whenever speech has been held by us with the Prince of Kung his language has been marked by manifold shortcomings in decorum We ordain that as a special act of grace (for his punishment) there be substituted deprivation of his imperial princedom with hereditary succession forever and that he be reduced to the rank of secondary Prince (Kun Wang, instead of Chin Wang shi chih mang ti), in place of still continuing to do duty in the Grand Council Let also Tsai chieng (eldest son of the Prince) be stripped of his rank as Beileh Kun Wang as a punishment and admonition

Later advices from China inform us that Prince Kung has been restored to favor

The dullness in trade [illegible] there is now much complaint [illegible] partly attributable to either a scarcity of money or high rates of interest for in former years both these causes have operated to a much greater extent than now and still the murmur of dullness [illegible] than at present. So the question as to the reasons for the existing condition of affairs [illegible] directly suggested It is claimed by many who carefully examine the causes of [illegible] which effect the commercial condition of the community that some things in our way of doing business must be radically wrong to produce such dullness and lack of prosperity when the country is demonstrated to be in the possession of all the essential elements of an active and growing trade Theorists say establish manufactories, build railroads open up farms construct mills hew down the [illegible] and convert them into ships to float the products of the country to foreign mart. But practical men see difficulties in the way of accomplishing these objects though acknowledging the desirableness of the state of affairs which would produce them The consummation of these objects is necessarily a slow process, and especially in a new country like ours so remote from older and more thickly [illegible] communities from which immigration [illegible] to our shores Manufactories and railroads in a sparsely settled country are not quickly put in operation nor do they pay [illegible] profits for years Shipbuilding is an enterprise beyond the means of most men in the State and many of the ideas of [illegible] are like the advice once given to a penniless man who asked how to get rich and was told to buy out a steamship line or build a railroad and get rich off the earnings The truth is that [illegible] we have the population to support these institutions the capital will come [illegible] and not before, and [illegible] this capital comes, it will give employment to this population And until these events combine to help us [illegible] independent condition [illegible] complaints of dullness will be heard relieved as they may occasionally be by high prices in our nearest [illegible] of demand, and gradually removed by the inauguration of smaller enterprises—such as fruit drying, beet sugar making, woolen mills oil mills etc At present aside from our grain flour wool and salmon exports the country is doing remarkably little to bring money to our State while our people are paying for hundreds of tons of imported [illegible] in Oregon for ever unless a change is effected. Let us have the change by the encouragement of home industry and manufactories, whose owners will by this patronage and encouragement be enabled to employ more labor and furnish a living to more people And let the citizens of our State render every possible assistance to the efforts being made to organize and put in operation the plan for inducing a desirable class of people to come and make their homes in our midst and then we can stand up independent of California or any other country for no country is better calculated than ours to support a large population of industrious people in a prosperous condition

Sugars and Coffee.

Advices from San Francisco to-day note an advance of ½ cent ℔ on all grades of Island sugars The same advance has taken place here Merchants here at par at are in fair supply of most brands The same advices confirm the reported rise in coffees which is more material and by some is rather unexpected. Our market is quotable at 25@[illegible]c ℔ for Costa Rica, and 24@25c for Guatemala Our [illegible] mail advices from the East noted a full coffee crop but these reports are hardly confirmed by the present advance.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—During the entire week under review the foreign and California markets have maintained a steady quiet which has superinduced the same state of affairs here. Although there seem to be but few offers here, exporters inform us that their agents in the interior are buying quite largely at current rates and could with extra exertion secure more than would supply present wants There has been some accumulation of the cereal at this point but vessels here would be able to clear it all out in a very short time We are informed by a buyer at one of the towns up the valley that he estimates that at least two-thirds of the crop is yet in the granaries and barns of the producers and claims are made that all calculations of the amount of the surplus have been too low, though we think that the estimates about 4 000 000 bushels is perhaps fully as much as will be shipped this year under any contingencies, and that should prices continue as low as now the exports will probably fall considerably below these figures At present buyers here quote at $1 35@1 37½ per cental with heavy supplies

FLOUR—The stocks at hand are full and prices firm at $4 50a4 75 ℔ bbl for best brands $4@4 25 for ordinary country brands and $3 75 for superfine The shipments this season have been about 26 000 barrels to Europe with rather less last year during the same period About 2 000 barrels have also been shipped to China

OATS—This cereal has ruled dull during the entire week and prices are 2@3c ℔ bushel lower than at our last weekly report being now quotable at 37½@38c ℔ bushel The shipping demand is not of average activity at this season of the year and home consumption [illegible] with current receipts.

BARLEY—There are but few transactions to note receipts being limited to the supply of the home demand [illegible] @ 100 [illegible] including sacks

FEED—Stocks are ample and as our State mills are all busy receipts are coming forward in large volume We quote bran $[illegible] ℔ ton shorts $20@22 50 [illegible] middlings, etc $25@[illegible] oil cake $30

HAY—The market is well supplied at $11@1[illegible] ton for best baled timothy loose do $10@11 [illegible] hay dull at $7@8 ℔ ton

BACON—A scarcity of choice Oregon cured meats still prevails and there is an active demand at 11@12c ℔ for best shoulders, 14@15c for sides and 16@18c for hams. An inferior article would hardly [illegible]

LARD—The supply has increased and prices for Oregon lard of average quality are not so firm Quotable at [illegible] cents ℔ in kegs and 14@1[illegible] cents in tins.

BUTTER is in full supply, but for choice lots the market is [illegible] fresh roll at [illegible] cents [illegible] solid, [illegible] cents Fancy dairy [illegible]

EGGS—[illegible] the market has been [illegible] at 60c [illegible], but some indications of a decline are noted in the increased receipts of the past few days.

CHICKENS—There are many large lots in the [illegible] are dull at $3 50@[illegible] ℔ dozen only choice [illegible] commanding the latter figure.

POTATOES—[illegible] decreased and prices [illegible] bushel for best varieties

ONIONS—[illegible] prices range from $1 25@1 50 ℔ hundred pounds The demand is not lively

DRESSED HOGS—The packing season being at hand the inquiry is brisk, but quotations are unchanged

BEEF CATTLE—Continue to arrive in fair numbers and condition, and are quotable at [illegible] on foot.

HIDES—Trade is active at our former quotations

WOOL—But little doing, the few bales coming to market selling at 22@[illegible]c ℔ according to quality. Some importations from California to mills in our State are noticed

DIRECTORS:

P WASSERMAN F QUACKENBUSH

D W WAKEFIELD J L ATKINSON
L WHITE W H EFFINGER
M P MORSE

THIS ASSOCIATION WAS INCORPORATED AT Portland, Oregon, October 29th, 1874, with a Capital Stock of $100 000 on a United States gold coin basis and under the laws of the State of Oregon for the purpose of issuing Life Endowment and Annuity Policies on such terms and at such rates as will be within the means of every citizen and retain at home the large sums annually sent East for Life Insurance which can be as safely and to the public more advantageously invested in building up our home interests

Mutual Life Insurance in its truth is simply the agreement of any number of persons that upon the death of any one of them those left living shall each contribute a certain agreed sum which in its total or aggregate shall be given to the family—wife or child relative or estate—as stipulated by the deceased But such persons so agreeing if any considerable number) require the services of a responsible agency for the collection and disbursement of such moneys and it is for such purpose that this Association has been organized and duly incorporated under the laws of the state

The safe and honorable management of the affairs of the Association is guaranteed by its incorporators whose names are a warranty to the public for safe custody of their trust funds

Life Policies.

In issuing these the design of the Association is as agents of the people to provide them with the advantages of a Mutual Life or Mutual Contribution system of Life Insurance at actual cost, without unnecessary and in some cases unbearably heavy expense to which the public have heretofore been compelled to submit.

The originators of the beneficent plan of Mutual Life Insurance never designed that the participants should pay four times its actual cost nor indeed any cost until the anticipated deaths had actually occurred Common sense tells us that paying a debt when it is due is sufficient in all business transactions.

Endowments.

Payable in five ten fifteen and twenty years will be issued by the Association in its corporate capacity giving its pledge for their true payment as stated over the signatures of its President and Secretary That better interest on money and better results to the holders of such endowments can be obtained here than in the Eastern States or in Europe, is evident when we consider the difference between the well known three to five and six to seven per cent. realized in the East against the ten and twelve per cent interest that can be safely obtained on the Pacific coast

Annuities

The Association issue Life Annuities for the payment each year of agreed or specified sums in gold coin to the holders of such Policies these will be issued over the signatures of the President and Secretary The same reasons which enable the Association to [illegible] agreements to pay a specified sum at the end of a stated term of years and to give such endowments on better terms than can be done by any Eastern Life Insurance Company also apply in case of Annuities, or a stated sum annually to be given by the Association

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness Jaundice Dyspepsia Indigestion Dysentery Foul Stomach and Breath Erysipelas Headache Piles Rheumatism Eruptions and Skin Diseases Biliousness Liver Complaint Dropsy Tetter Tumors and Salt Rheum Worms Gout Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected Their effects abundantly show how much they excel all other Pills They are safe and pleasant to take but powerful to cure They purge out the foul humors of the blood they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organ into action and they impart health and tone to the whole being They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases Most skillful physicians most eminent clergymen and our best citizens send certificates of cures performed and of great benefit they have derived from these Pills They are the safest and best physic for children because mild as well as effectual Being sugar coated they are easy to take and being purely vegetable they are entirely harmless

Ayer's Ague Cure,

FOR THE SPEEDY RELIEF OF

Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c , and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons,

℞ Has been widely used during the last twenty five years in the treatment of these distressing diseases and with such unvarying success that it has gained the reputation of being infallible The shakes or chills once broken by it do not return until the disease is contracted again This has made it an accepted remedy, and trusted specific for the Fever and Ague of the West and the Chills and Fever of the South

Ayer's Ague Cure eradicates the noxious poison from the system and leaves the patient as well as before the attack It thoroughly expels the [illegible] so that no Liver Complaints Rheumatism, Neuralgia Dysentery or Debility follow the cure Indeed where Disorders of the Liver and Bowels have occurred from Miasmatic Poison it removes the cause of them and they disappear Not only is it an effectual cure but if taken occasionally by patients exposed to malaria it will expel the poison and protect them from attack Travelers and temporary residents in Fever and Ague localities are thus enabled to defy the disease The General Debility which is so apt to ensue from continued exposure to Malaria and Miasm has no speedier remedy

For Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy
